Please remember:

- Stay within eyesight of your students at all times.
- Only touch objects when invited, and touch gently.
- Eat all food outside in the Park—water is okay inside the Museum!
- Walk and use quiet voices.
- Visit the Pleistocene Garden with your students, not the Atrium. The Atrium is too small for school groups.
- Look for Museum staff if you need help or have questions.
- Wear your Museum sticker during your entire visit for re-entry.
- Lead students to reservations on time; they are only guaranteed at your scheduled time.
- Don’t forget the Tar Pits! See excavators in action at Project 23, peek down into Pit 91, or visit one of our many historic pits labeled on the map below.
